

VIA MIRACOLI

"Porosity is the inexhaustible law of life in this city" ... "Porosity results not only from the indolence of the southern Italian, above all, from the passion for improvisation, which demands that space and opportunity be preserved at any price."
Walter Benjamin & Aldo Rossi
Thought images: Naples, 1923

Naples is my muse. She is not easy going, however, I keep photographing her.
She is a source of intense inspiration.
Neapolis is her ancient name - anarchic her system.
Rules do exist but are broken all the time or created anew, when necessary.

I think it is easier to discern the secret beauty and wonder and mystery in humble and common things than the splendid and noble storied things.
Arthur Machen

